

PROTECT WITH CONFIDENCE

Raven's Spray-in Liners (SIL) provide the best environmental protection and highest performance value for secondary containment. They are designed to withstand the extreme field conditions seen in the oil and gas industry. Our solutions are highly versatile and easy to install, while delivering a durable monolithic liner that prevents spills from contaminating our natural resources.

Our products instill the confidence needed in diminishing the environmental risks resulting from leaks or ruptures while extending the life of the containment. These products are seamless and produce an impermeable barrier designed to last the life of the storage facility, hence creating a permanent low-maintenance solution.

- Proven environmental spill protection
- Non-skid surface for safety slip resistance
- Can be applied in extreme weather conditions
- Environmentally friendly 100% solids, no VOC's
- Maintains flexibility down to -40°F
