Raven Lining Systems Gets Down and Dirty for St. Jude

TULSA, May 2, 2015 – When it comes to getting down and dirty for a good cause, Raven Lining Systems (aka Raven Knights) will climb over 20 foot walls and crawl through mud to get the job done. Raven, located in Tulsa, recently recruited 35 team members, which included staff and customers, and participated in the Tulsa Warrior Dash, the world's largest obstacle race, supporting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

"This was a fun charity event for Raven. We choose a different charity annually to get involved with and this year we chose the Warrior Dash because they support St. Jude Children's Research Hospital," states Roxanne Cook, Raven's Director of Marketing. "It is times like these that Raven enjoys coming together, having fun and raising a lot of money for a great cause."

To add to the fun, Raven sold tiered sponsorships to its customers and vendors where their logo would be showcased on the back of the Raven Knights t-shirt. These sponsorships, along with individual donations, helped in exceeding our goal of $5,000. As of today, Raven Knights raised over $10,000 for St. Jude, making them the top corporate fundraisers at the Tulsa Warrior Dash.

About Raven Lining Systems

Raven Lining Systems is a company built on the confidence that our partners and staff have consistently placed in it over time. This confidence is shown in the protection, strength, experience, and commitment represented every day in our products, customer service and technical expertise. Raven has been providing effective, efficient and economic solutions to water and wastewater infrastructure problems for more than 25 years. It is this forward-thinking that allowed Raven to recently expand into the oil and gas market, focusing on the delivery of environmentally-friendly protection for secondary containment solutions.

Raven prides itself on partnerships of the highest integrity with a solid commitment to a standard of excellence. Continually setting high standards is a way of life for Raven. Whether it is creating an industry-needed solution or revamping an existing product line, Raven understands that when you set high standards, then you achieve quality performance, therefore unleashing continued confidence.

The innovative technology Raven uses has proven to stand the test of time simply by providing superior quality and reliability for almost three decades. Raven delivers its products and solutions through a network of trusted certified applicators. These certified applicators are provided continuous education on the latest methods and cutting-edge technology. Currently, we have more than 50 certified applicators serving customers nationwide with a combined level of experience which is unmatched in the industry. Raven strives to provide an undaunting level of commitment to its applicators and partnerships, knowing that then and only then, can they feel a level of confidence to be competitive in the industry.

Some of Raven's signature products are the Raven® 405, AquataPoxy® A-6 and A-6 Thick and the Raven® 750. By setting higher standards with our products, applicators and customer service, higher performance is expected. For more information, call 800-324-2810 or visit www.ravenlining.com.
